Karen: Everything okay? You sounded a little down yesterday about the book.
me: yeah, I'm fine, just wanted to sort of vocalize my frustrations about it, but it can definitely be done right
Karen: Yes, I know you have your hopes up for something that's probably different than what they're wanting to do.
Karen: but I really think you can get it done in a way that will work, don't you?
Karen: Am going to be free all next week, starting Tues morning, so do you want to maybe come over here for the day, several days in a row? The change of scenery might help :)
me: yep indeed
Karen: Okie dokie. Did you get a haircut yet? Want me to make an appt for next week with that guy at Culwell?
me: sure
Karen: Will do.
